

---

Viriathus helps uranium explorers win over American investors

---

A year after counselling Australian mining firm Deep Yellow, owner of the Namibian uranium project Reptile, ahead of its first listing on New York's OTCQB venture market, Viriathus Capital has helped Bannerman Resources do the same. Like Deep Yellow, Bannerman is based in Australia and holds a uranium project in Namibia, Etango. Viriathus specialises in financial advisory and business banking. It has offices in Sydney and Miami, home to its senior managing director, David Batista, a former Lehman Brothers financier. Managing director for Viriathus Australia, Shaun Cartwright, is a board member of several junior mining operations the likes of International Cobalt Resources and Centaur Resources.

© Copyright Africa Mining Intelligence.

Reproduction and dissemination prohibited (Intranet...) without written permission - 108401913

---