Corporate Access Luncheon

New York

Viriathus invites you to join us for a lunch meeting with Executive Chairman Harry Karelis and Managing Director Richard Hopkins of Zelda Therapeutics Limited (ASX: ZLD, OTCQB: ZLDAF) on Thursday, September 20, 2018. This event gives investors the opportunity to meet and interact with senior management of Zelda in an informal setting.

Zelda Therapeutics is developing and hopes to soon license medical cannabis formulations that treat common medical disorders. The company has clinical trials underway in autism and insomnia and pre-clinical research programs progressing in cancers of the breast, pancreatic and brain and in diabetes-related cognitive decline.

Zelda is differentiated from competitors in the medical cannabis space by its focus on whole plant extracts and investment in rigorous clinical trials.

The company's strategic partnerships with world leaders in medical cannabis are a major competitive advantage, providing Zelda with access to exclusive patient data evidencing past therapeutic successes. This existing data is helping to guide pipeline development, reduce research costs, streamline the development process and accelerate time to market.
